

INTERESTING CARMEL

Interesting things about Carmel and Carmel People.

THE VIENNESE SHOP

One of the most interesting little shops we have visited is the Viennese Shop, of Stella Korn Herron. Mrs. Herron has an embroidery frame, but it isn't a little hoop to be carried around in her sewing basket. It is made on a frame and is just the right height to work on. It is interesting to see her pushing her needle in and out, in and out, to make the intricate designs, copying the imported dresses. For this is one way Mrs. Herron beats the high cost of dressing. She imports a lovely model and with clever fingers and her native skill she is able to make an exact copy, so that any one of us may enjoy one of these beautifully embroidered frocks or jackets. And what gorgeous colors they come in, rich reds, blues, dark greens, or whatever you wish. Mr. and Mrs. Herron have been in Carmel for two and one half years and have made their own niche in the community life.

THE FORGE IN THE FOREST

A story of "Interesting Carmel" would be incomplete without mention of our Forge in the Forest, owned by our equally interesting mayor, John Catlin. The forge in the forest is not a blacksmith shop. It is a place where iron is made by a master hand into works of art. Mr. Catlin takes what looks to me and you to be an ugly piece of iron, but he heats it, he chiseles it, he pounds it, he takes the punch and makes some holes, and there you have it. A piece of art that will endure through the ages. This week Mr. Catlin is working on a grotesque to be used as a latch on a barn in an enormous estate in New England. It represents a Texas long-horn and the expression makes it appear alive. It was easy to make, too. You just take a strip of iron about an inch square, you heat it and chisel two long strips loose so they can be made into horns, then you hammer the nose down, then put in the mouth and the teeth and last the eyes. And here's the secret of the eyes: Take a punch and hammer them in and their depression forces the iron out and makes the temples. Now isn't that easy? Go ahead and make one.

Mr. Catlin believes that the fact that he differs in belief from a man need not make him dislike that man. He is a fighter, himself, and he likes a fighter. His advice is, "Get in and fight. Be with me or be against me. But fight!"

ENGLISH PAINTER SAYS CARMEL UNCHANGED

Distinguished visitors form not a little part of Interesting Carmel. We had the pleasure of an hour with the Hon. Mrs. K. Airini Vane of London and saw some of her wonderful pictures which was a real treat as her work has been exhibited in all the best galleries in the world. One can hear the roar of the ocean or see the breeze gently sway the tree tops, so clearly does she present her subject. Mrs. Vane loves detail work and it is this quality that makes her water colors so charming. Her colors are vivid, such as are required to bring out the beauty of the places she chooses to paint. Scenes at the Point are a joy to see and a picture of the cypresses now hangs in the Dunedin Galleries in New Zealand, having been purchased by that country.

"Carmel is one of the loveliest places in the world," said Mrs. Vane, "and especially unique for painting." She is pleased with the fact that when she is painting she is not bothered by the curious, who, in other countries, she said, crowd about so closely it makes working very difficult. In Spain the artist is considered fair game and children seem to spring up out of the ground and disturb while in France people of all ages get as close to the painter as they possibly can. Mrs. Vane was in Carmel seven years ago and finds this little city remarkably unchanged as compared with the rest of the nation. She and Miss DeNeale Morgan have been enjoying the past few weeks catching the glints of the sky and the water on the surrounding objects. Mrs. Vane will remain for a few weeks longer.

POTTERY CLASS AT SUNSET SCHOOL

We were tipped off to the fact that we could find a part of "Interesting Carmel" at the night pottery class at Sunset school.

This class is conducted by E. R.

Oxford Group Here On Religious Movement

Following Divine guidance the Oxford group of forty-five religious teachers, descended on Carmel Monday and stayed at a local hotel three days, holding a meeting here Tuesday night, which was well attended.

The organization is an outcropping of the old Keswick movement started in England about forty years ago. Some years ago Dr. Buchman became interested in the teachings in England and came back to America to begin to live and teach the application of Christ's early teachings, or first century Christian fellowship. He made an effort to get interest started in the higher colleges but met with a great deal of resistance. The present organization originated at Oxford.

This Oxford group claims their religion can meet the present world crisis as nothing else can.

H. R. KERNER MAKES GOOD RESOLUTION

H. R. Kerner made one resolution Sunday though March 5 isn't really a good day for resolutions. He has resolved not to drive his car along the sandy beach at Moss Landing.

Sunday, Mr. Kerner, driver and W. E. Mack, owner of the Carmel Laundry, took their families to the Landing to dig for clams and they found a nice sandy place to drive over but when they started home the Kerner car got contrary and stopped and began to dig and when it was pretty well on its way to China Mr. Mack had to take his car and go about a mile to get a tractor to pull out the Kerner car.

Folk living near there say that some cars have stuck there until washed away by the tide, never to be seen again.

WOMAN DISAPPEARS; FRIENDS ARE WORRIED

Quite a bit of excitement prevailed in Carmel Friday when the following appeared in the San Francisco Examiner:

"Believed to be either a victim of foul play or a suicide. Mrs. Catherine Bell, a young blonde Englishwoman who has made her home here for four years, was being sought by police today. She has been missing from her home for three weeks.

Mrs. James Adams and Mrs. Hugh Comstock reported the disappearance.

Mrs. Bell's clothes were found in her room by police today. A suitcase, empty and open as if ready to be packed, was on the bed.

Postoffice authorities here report that mail has been accumulating in Mrs. Bell's box since February 12. Previously she called for letters twice a day.

Mrs. Comstock, wife of a prominent builder told police Mrs. Bell appeared worried when she saw her last.

The missing woman is 32, has light blue eyes and weighs 135 pounds.

Constable Gus Englund went to Mrs. Bell's cottage to search for clues as to her disappearance. They found two photographs which they sent to the sheriff.

Mrs. J. A. Burge of San Carlos avenue is now recovering from a serious attack of influenza.

Calley, teacher in industrial arts in Sunset school, but Mrs. Calley, who is ostensibly a member of the class, also helps in the work. Some of the adults are only beginners and some have reached the point where they are able to make lovely pieces. They learn first to mix their clay to the right consistency, then to work toward a beautiful finished product after it has dried for two weeks, then baked for 24 to 30 hours, then glazed and put back for another baking, after of course, it has cooled from the first baking. There is a lot of preliminary work but the pupils enjoy doing it and are delighted when they have their finished pottery, a product of their own hands. Mr. Calley also teaches wood work and a lady was mending a piece from a gate 100 years old which she is trying to preserve, but we are going to tell you about that gate later. It is truly an interesting place and the air of friendliness as well as very pleasing.

Let us say again, these writings are in no sense considered in a commercial way by Carmel Sun. They are merely to remind you, lest you take it too much for granted, that Carmel is an unusual place.

Bank Holiday May End Soon According to Late Reports

The banking situation throughout the nation is the great topic of the day. The latest developments in Washington, as reported this Thursday morning are that a program has been planned which would result in the opening of all sound national banks Friday, under a bill for controlled currency expansion by amendment to the Federal Reserve act and the Glass-Steagall bill to the possible amount of almost $3,000,000,000. The government announced its opposition to scrip and to guarantee of bank deposits.

In California, Governor Rolph who had announced a further two-day holiday, including Friday and Saturday, may probably recall his order depending on the action of the federal authorities at the end of the federal holiday tonight.

The editor had a most interesting talk with Mr. Abernethy this morning at the Monterey County Trust and Savings Bank.

"The holiday is a fine thing for the banks," Mr. Abernethy said, "since the final outcome is sure to be a really good banking system." His idea as we got it, was that a system would result that would be safe not only in times of serenity but in troublous times.

We asked him about present deposits and his opinion of how the "old accounts" would be handled. He stated that until some final agreement was settled upon no one could tell exactly but that it was his opinion that old accounts would be available for checking for the regular routine of business. Business he said, could be conducted through checks. He thinks it advisable that business shall be carried on as usual during the unsettled period. Should the banks themselves be protected by limiting the amount each person may draw, the depositors are protected and need feel no alarm.

If A owes B $10 and has that amount in the bank, he may give B a check for $10. B may deposit the check and give C whom he owes, a check for $10, but no cash will in all probability be paid out on A's original $10 deposit, unless of course a small percentage may be allowed by federal authorities.

Anyone now holding a check may take it to the bank and receive a receipt for it with the understanding that as soon as the banks open for business it will be deposited to his account. As soon as he has made his deposit he may write checks for the amount he has left at the bank and they will go through the regular channels when the bank opens for business. Thus, if A has previously had no bank account, but finds himself with a $50 check on hand and no one to cash it, he may deposit it and use it for a checking account, so that he will not need actual cash, and he will get full benefit of his money.

"The biggest thing we find in the present situation is the attitude of the public. They have been so very decent we want to do all we can to preserve that attitude," Mr. Abernethy said. He also stated that he found a feeling of patriotism such as existed during the World War.

MANZANITA CLUB HAS FINE SOUTHERN MEAL

One of the most enjoyable meetings of the Manzanita club was held at the club house Wednesday evening, when about 75 members partook of a delicious southern dinner with Dr. Gray and Constance Imelman as hosts.

"May you live as long you want to, and want to as long as you live," was a toast given by Dr. Gray, master of ceremonies, to Frank Sheridan and M. J. Murphy. He later made a plea for courage in the present bank emergency.

Frank Sheridan, in a talk, among other witty things, said even a Republican was respected in the Manzanita club. He made a fine plea to the parents to take more interest in the boys' athletic activities at Sunset school. They should cheer and encourage the lads, he said.

Dr. Gray then suggested that each member bring with him to the next meeting some boy.

Harry Joseph entertained with his harmonica and Mr. Overstreet gave an eloquent plea for confidence in the new president.

L. S. Slevin very cleverly entertained with a sentimental song, and Bob Leidig, who was given a big hand in honor of his birthday, responded with a short talk.

The program closed with fine music by the Veterans of Foreign Wars band. Manzanita club members are all very loyal and will be looking forward eagerly to the next meeting.

Pay Your Way to Recital With Buttons or Beans

It is a rather significant thing that in these queer times when the erstwhile full pocket may contain ten cents and the leaner one ten dollars and the only way to get along at all is for every one to pull together that the particular concert which the Carmel Music Society is presenting next Saturday night couldn't and wouldn't "be" at all if a group of people which may have little relationship or acquaintanceship with each other, beyond the boundless ties of music, hadn't "pulled together." Under the stirring leadership of Michel Penha this group will give a concert which all of us who are fortunate to hear are going to remember.

If, for any reason the Bank holiday is carried over the announced date of Friday the tenth, no music lover will be prevented, for lack of actual cash from hearing this concert. Scrip, checks and I.O.U.'s for those who carry no bank accounts, will be gladly accepted by the Carmel Music Society. This concert, almost more than any other of the season is meant for "all of us" and "all of us" are welcome and urged to come.

The program will be presented as follows: Mozart Serenade Handel Concerto in B minor Violin and Orchestra Beethoven Concerto in C major Piano and Orchestra Beethoven Egmont Overture

GIRLS DRAW LARGE CROWD AT RECITAL

An enthusiastic audience heard Miss Kathaleen Murphy, soprano, and Miss Mary Ingels, pianist, at the Denny-Watrous gallery Saturday night.

Both are recognized as very talented young ladies and every number on their program bore out the reason for their reputation. Miss Murphy was presented by her teacher, Vasia Anikieff, and her pure, true high tones gave proof of her excellent training.

MISS MARY BOND COMMITTS SUICIDE

A young lady identified as Miss Mary Bond of Carmel committed suicide in Chualar by shooting herself in the temple, according to word received here Monday. Miss Bond was in her car when she took her life.

Coroner Cornett and Constable Gus Englund searched Miss Bond's room but found no reason for her deed.

It is reported that the dead girl's mother was on her way here from her home in Newcastle, Pa.

Kite Contest Is a Big Success This Year

It was indeed a gala day Saturday when the countryside on Hutton Hill was dotted with cars and the occupants wandered around and visited enjoying the Kite festival. Rev. Mr. White, who had the activities in charge, said to a Carmel Sun reporter that he was more than delighted with the afternoon. He stated that there was more enthusiasm, the kites were better made and were prettier this year than ever before.

There were so many pretty kites so many well made ones and such unique ones that the judges had great difficulty in their decisions, but these were the ones awarded: From the first four grades—Best flyer, Rene Foss; prettiest kite, Adeline Guth; most unique Thomas Brown.

Adult class—Best made, Rio Re-loque; most unique, Epigeno Yara; prettiest, Leopoldo Yeban; highest flyer, E. R. Calley, height three miles; second highest, Junior Warrington.

Yeban's kite was made of celophane and displayed the coat of arms of the United States.

The fight this year was exceptionally good, the kites behaving as if they were on sticks, instead of strings.

WISHARTS ARE GLAD THEY LIVE IN CARMEL

Next Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. George Wishart of the Dolores bakery will celebrate their first year in Carmel. After ten years of longing and planning for just such a place to make their home and settle down for life, they found an opening here and quickly seized upon it. They are glad every day of their lives that they live here.

Mr. Wishart has been a baker since he was a very young boy, and spent his earlier years working in all the large cities on the coast. He came here from Monterey, but had previously been in San Francisco for many years in charge of a large bakery.

Mr. and Mrs. Wishart are both enthusiastic over Carmel as a place to bring up a family, due to the climate and the cultural influences.

Just by way of celebration they are offering this Saturday a choice of two specials, though of course you may take both if you wish.

CARMELO 4-H CLUB HELD AT STEWART HOME

This month's meeting of the Carmelo 4-H club was held at the home of Mrs. Joe Stewart. During the meeting, projects for the coming year were discussed and Bernard Schulte is going to raise chickens; Joe Stewart and Ariel Scarlett are raising corn and the girls are all taking clothing under the direction of Mrs. B. H. Schulte and Ann E. Martin. A demonstration at our summer camp at Asilomar was also discussed.

After the business meeting the club played games after which Mrs. Stewart served a most delicious dinner.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Schulte, Bernard Schulte, Jr., Joe Stewart, Ariel Scarlett, Bernadine Meadows, Jean Stewart and as a guest Mary Hobson of Carmel.

P. T. A. MET YESTERDAY IN MONTHLY SESSION

The regular meeting of the P. T. A. was held yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon at Sunset school, with a large number present.

The organization endorsed the program of the state organization in a petition to be presented to the legislature asking for certain advantages for the school.

Mrs. Carter, district chairman of membership, announced that a prize of a beautiful water color would be presented to the branch securing the greatest increase in membership.

A committee was appointed to see Manager Bolton of the Golden State theatre and ask him to try to secure more pictures that will be suitable for children.

The junior members of the Manzanita club are presenting the first of their series of dances this Friday night, March 10 and will hold one each alternate Friday. The young folks, and some not so young, who attend always report a fine time. Dooley Stoney's Six High Hatters will furnish the music and that means rhythm.

HELEN WARE IN Community Play

Headed by Helen Ware, stage and picture star and first lady of Carmel dramatics, a cast of Community Players are being assembled for the production of "Ladies of the Jury" the last week-end in March. Rehearsals started Monday night on the stage of the little Playhouse on Monte Verde street, Carmel.

What happens behind the locked doors of a jury room is presented in this three act comedy. It is a modern and delicious variation of the desert island situation, where a strangely assorted group of men and women are shut away and isolated from the world until they determine the fate of beautiful Yvette Gordon. They sat in judgment while she was tried for murder, but the real drama and hysterics of the comedy occur behind the barricaded doors of the juryroom.

Mrs. Livingston Baldwin Crane, the character played by Miss Ware marches on to the delight of the audience to a tremendous extralegal victory. The story is best told from the stage. Lines rich with humor, swift and barbed follow each other so fast that the show attains terrific momentum.

In support of Miss Ware two outstanding favorites of local dramatics return to the Playhouse stage. Sammy Sampson, who stepped from Carmel into professional playing is cast in "Ladies of the Jury" as Mae Mixer, while Sibyl Leonard is set for the dramatic role of Yvette Gordon. A newcomer on the Carmel stage is Charley Sayres, village wood carver, whose rare Scotch burr fortifies the part of Andrew McKaig.

Another Carmel player who will make her debut is Katherine Van Dyck, resident of the Country Club. Miss Van Dyck is from the South where she played in the Pasadena shows.

Veterans as well as recruits are included in the line-up of the Community Players. Marion Todd has a character part as Mrs. Pratt that teams her with Gordon Knolls cast as Mr. Pressley, foreman of the jury. Norma Parrott goes on as Mrs. Maguire, an excellent Irish cook who was caught in the drawing of the jury. Ross Cowan, favorite of Playhouse audiences is called back to enact a role that is exactly in his line.

The show opens on Thursday, March 30, for three performances only. Reservations for individual parties or organization theatre parties will be received at the Playhouse until the tickets go on sale.

MRS. RIGNEY WRITES OF PLEASANT TRIP

A letter was received by Carmel friends this week from Mrs. Ella Rigney who left March 9 for Ancon, Canal Zone, to visit for several weeks. The letter was mailed in Correo de Guatemala. Mrs. Rigney says in part: "I am beginning to get warmed up as we are in the tropics, but it feels good to get warmed clear through for a change. There are many people on the boat who have been in Carmel and all rave over its beauty. On our menu cards last night was a picture of the Roman plunge at Del Monte. Am feeling fine and have not missed a meal so far."

Mrs. Rigney sent her regards to her friends in Carmel. She is keeping up with the news while away through the columns of Carmel Sun.

MRS. MARY GOULD IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Swerving in order to miss an oncoming truck, Mrs. Mary Gould drove her car into a fence near Salinas Thursday morning. Her hand was quite badly hurt and the car was damaged, and would have turned over except for hitting a post.

SAN FRANCISCO HOTEL WILL TAKE PRODUCE

When a farmer goes to San Francisco now, he won't need money to stay at a hotel since the inauguration of a new system by the Olympic hotel at 230 Eddy street. The management says, "Under this arrangement the growers of food products can come to San Francisco for a holiday without it costing them a cent for hotel rooms or meals, provided they are willing to exchange acceptable produce on the basis of our regular hotel rates."

This will be watched with interest in the barter or exchange idea. The Olympic is one of the largest and newest of San Francisco's hotels.

ANIMAL KINGDOM Coming Here

Every once in a while a human being reads a book or sees a play that upsets his most cherished convictions, dynamites him out of his complacency and makes him look at life from a point of view he did not suspect existed. Such an experience awaits those who see the motion picture version of Philip Barry's play "The Animal Kingdom."

There is dynamite in almost every foot of film and every word uttered in this RKO radio picture current at the Carmel theatre Sunday and Monday, March 12 and 13. It is Philip Barry screened at his best. What a subtly powerful drama he has written. What cruel truths stab from behind gay repartee.

One might regard "The Animal Kingdom" as a battle of art against commercial enterprise with Ann Harding and Leslie Howard, abetted by Leni Stengel and Donald Dilloway, ranged on the side of art, and Myrna Loy, Neil Hamilton, Ilka Chase, and Henry Stephenson, range solidly on the side of enterprise.

The title is based on the beliefs that human beings in their love lives are still living pretty much in the animal kingdom. The picture provokes such controversies for weeks to come.

R. E. BONHAM FEEDS WORMS FOR FISH BAIT
 It seems like a kind of a dirty trick to play on a worm, but looking forward to a catfish season, R. E. Bonham dug himself a lot of fish worms Sunday and put them in a huge bed of dirt. This he spread with corn meal and covered with boards. Mr. Bonham will have bait when everybody else's tongues are hanging out for a nice juicy worm.

He plans to keep plenty of meal for them and to keep the ground wet so they will all be comfortable and not want to leave Carmel for the summer.

LOTS OF FUN AT IRISH CABARET
 You'll never forgive yourself if you miss the Irish Cabaret to be given at Sunset school Friday night of next week, March 17.

It's going to be fun and still more fun from the minute you enter the door. You can do your own dancing, you can watch some one dance for you, you can find something interesting every minute.

Next week, March 17, honoring St. Patrick. Give yourself a treat.

SPANISH PROGRAM TO BE HEARD MONDAY

Members of the Woman's club are asked to bear in mind that next Monday, March 13, will be the date of the Spanish program to be given at the club house. Mrs. Grady, of Berkeley, assisted by Mrs. Williamson, will furnish the hour of entertainment, which will begin at 2:30.

There was some confusion since it became necessary to postpone the meeting from last Monday on account of the inability of Mrs. Grady to be present. The Book section will meet next Tuesday.

GET $10 FINE FOR DISTRIBUTING BILLS

Being unaware of Carmel's ordinance banning the distribution of hand bills, or thinking to "get by" with it, one Jack Sowell was arrested in this city last Saturday morning and fined $10 before Judge Wood for passing out hand bills advertising branches of a creamery, located at Monterey and Pacific Grove.

OH, YEAH?

Mr. Jones was out of a job temporarily. He had five small children at home who were hungry. He went to the chain store manager and said, "My children must be fed. I will have work next week. Will you trust me until the 10th?" "Indeed, I will," said the chain store manager.

Managers of a certain chain of stores must make 33 1-3 per cent on vegetables. What to do about it? Cut down on the farmer, of course. That's simple.

SPORTS NEWS of the WEEK

Abalone League

At The Point

The first game between the Manzanita Club vs. the Del Monte Club was a very one-sided game—won by the Del Monte Club, 18 to 6.

The game was featured by the heavy hitting and good pitching on the part of Nelson—of the Del Monte Club. Poor base running and plenty of errors on the part of the Manzanita Club helped the Del Monte Club to win very easily. Dick Catlett was the outstanding player of the game. His hitting was practically responsible for all the scores the Manzanita Club made.

Umpires—Gray and Stanford.

After a wild scramble mixed with good and bad fielding the Pilots took the Tigers after hectic exciting finish—Pilots coming from behind and finally winning the ball game. Bill Stanford got five hits out of five at the bat, finishing the day with a 1000 percentage. Steve Bancroft—old California football star got a home run which drove in runs ahead of him. The Pilots were without the services of their star short stop who is without a question the best player in the league. They also didn't have their regular catcher—Bain Reamer, which no doubt, handicapped the team very much.

Next Sunday at Carmel Woods the Giants meet the Pilots and it should be a great contest. The Pilots are out for revenge; the Giants trimmed them in their first clash by a score of 2 to 7. The Country Club will meet the Del Monte Club at the Point, and this should be a great contest. The Country Club is out to take Del Monte Club this time, and don't be surprised if they do.

Country Club upsetting the dope bucket took the league leaders for a ride in an exciting extra inning game by a score of 11 to 10. It was the most exciting and closest game played thus far this season. The Polo Club was favorite before the contest started but the beans were spilled so anything might happen from now on. Frank Townsend's hitting was largely responsible to help his team win.

2nd Game at the Point
Shamrocks vs. Giants was also a very one sided game—featured by Henry, Giant pitcher, shutting out the Shamrocks not giving a run or anything that looked like one. The Shamrocks, usually a very hard hitting team were held the entire game by his air tight pitching—while the Giants fell on Frank Murphy's offerings hitting to all corners of the field and scoring at will—driving him out of the box. Dr. Matzke then took up the pitching burden and finally cacked the slugging Giants but the game was lost as far as the Shamrocks were concerned. Helen Hilbert was star of the game both her fielding and batting featured largely in the Giants winning. Knight lead his team in batting, followed closely by Tremayne, Henry and Mary Douglass. Final score—Giants 15 Shamrocks 0.

The VOICE of the People

March 6, 1933
Mr. Perry Newberry,
Editor, Carmel Pine Cone.

My Dear Perry:

May I be allowed to take exception to some of the ideas expressed editorially in the Pine Cone of the 3rd. Under the heading, "A Firm Policy Needed", and also to correct at least one mis-statement therein?

First I was not a member of any committee that "had waited upon" Mrs. Rendtorff urging her to become a candidate for Trustee of Sunset School District. As far as I know there never was any such committee: nor do I know of any person or organization with the authority to appoint a committee for the purpose stated. You have been badly informed and I am quite sure your informant was not Mrs. Rendtorff.

Please do not misunderstand me however. If I have been in the least degree instrumental in persuading Mrs. Rendtorff to become a candidate, I am proud of it. In my opinion Mrs. Rendtorff has all the firmness of character that you claim for Mr. Ewig and in addition, having long been associated with educational work, (she herself has taught), she knows intimately many of the problems likely to arise to trouble a School Trustee. Except possibly, in the matter of buying supplies for the school cafeteria, I feel that she is better qualified by experience than is Mr. Ewig.

So far as harmony in school matters is concerned, again we seem to be at variance. Your idea seems to be that permitting one group (or faction) UNQUESTIONED control constitutes harmony. It may be so but I do not consider that kind of harmony desirable. A better word to use in that connection would be "apathy".

Previous to the school election of last year your kind of harmony had prevailed for many years with the result that the tax-payer became burdened with a heavy load of taxes to meet operating expenses and to pay interest on an unnecessarily large bonded indebtedness. Now, in this time of terrible depression, this extravagant spending is making itself felt. Naturally there is a protest. I believe Mrs. Rendtorff well fitted to give us a more economical administration of the school without sacrificing in any particular the essential needs of our children. Her experience and knowledge will be of far more assistance to her in this problem than will Mr. Ewig's "hard masculine methods" be to him.

You refer to the "attacks of various malcontents". Unless you are classifying under this head all who do not agree with you, I have no idea to whom you refer. Or possibly you have reference only to those who endorsed Mrs. Rendtorff's candidacy. You will remember a list of these was given you and you promised to publish but so far have failed to do so.

Finally I am asking that in fairness to all you publish this letter in full. I am also sending a copy to the Carmel Sun with a like request.

Yours very truly,
Geo. L. Wood

To The Public:

Because of some mis-statement and exaggerations and unfair references to personalities in connection with the school controversy made from time to time by the editor of the Pine Cone, I wish to state the facts as I know them.

We all deeply regret that there should be factions and groups in the Sunset school district, but as such is the case, there is no use attempting to keep the fact under cover. Neither faction is to be condemned. Each has the interests of the boys and girls of Carmel and vicinity at heart. There have always been and always will be differences of opinion with regard to school policies. A difference is often very decided among educators themselves. Through the settling of these differences by each group, giving a little as well as taking, a finer and better school results.

One reason I permitted my name to be placed before the people last year as a candidate for school trustee was that a larger group of people might be represented, rather than the small faction then regulating school affairs. A public school must be democratic if it serves all alike.

Speaking of Mrs. Rendtorff's candidacy for school trustee, the editor of the Pine Cone says in the issue of March 3rd: "There had waited upon her, urging her to run, a committee of George L. Wood, Henry F. Larouette, Daisy Taylor, Joseph A. Burge and Mrs. Johnson."

I was not a member of any committee which called on Mrs. Rendtorff, knew nothing of her having been asked to become a candidate, until informed by Mrs. Rendtorff herself.

As to the "firm business-like policy in the board of trustees," I heartily agree with the editor. That has been and will continue to be my policy. The people of this district will be fortunate if Mrs. Rendtorff is placed on the board of trustees at the Spring election. She has a firm and business-like quality because of her keen business perception. In addition the children and parents will have the benefit of her long school association and her great human sympathy.

I am sending a copy of this letter to the Pine Cone and Carmel Sun asking them to publish it so that the public may have the facts.

Daisy B. Taylor

To the Pine Cone.

Dear Sir:

You stated in your issue of March 3 that a committee waited upon Mrs. Rendtorff asking her to run for school trustee. You named me as one of that committee. I was on no such committee and know of no one with authority to support such a committee.

I am very glad to be able, however, to support Mrs. Rendtorff's candidacy—committee or no committee.

I am sending a copy of this to both Carmel papers so the all may know where I stand.

Sincerely,
J. A. Burge

McDONALD DAIRY IS GETTING FINE MILK

Perry McDonald, of McDonald's dairy, reports that he is now getting his raw milk from the Clausen dairy in Salinas valley. This dairy, Mr. McDonald stated to a Carmel Sun reporter, is brand new and comprises a herd of Guernsey cows recently brought in from Wisconsin. Mr. McDonald is much pleased with having secured this service as the dairy is modern in every way.

Some thought that if the Post office would close during the legal holiday it would help, in that no one could mail them any bills. Not such a bad idea at that.

Mrs. James and son, Ralph, went to San Francisco Tuesday to remain until Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott R. Bradley left last Wednesday for Santa Monica for an indefinite stay.

The Norville family have returned to their home in Hatten Fields after an absence of some time.

Dr. E. L. Taylor, of the Highlands, has as her guest her sister, Mrs. DeRoche of Saskatchewan, Canada.

Mrs. Margaret Grant of Junipero street has recently returned from a ten-day stay in San Francisco.

Stuart Marble went to San Jose and met John Rockwell who attends school there and the two went to San Francisco for the week-end.

Many Carmel members of the Eastern Star attended the big turkey dinner in Monterey Monday night, in honor of the visiting deputy grand matron, Mrs. Clark.

Miss Mary Grinnell leaves today for her home in Waquoit, Mass., after a visit with relatives here. She will return home by way of the canal, as she came out. She was delighted with Carmel and all of California that she visited.

Principal Bardarson of Sunset school returned home Tuesday from a visit to the bedside of his mother, who is quite ill at Blaine, Wash. He reports he left her somewhat improved and that the physicians thought the crisis had passed.

The Monterey and Pacific Grove P.T.A.'s will hold a joint meeting in Pacific Grove tonight which will be attended by many Carmel folk. Miss Van Hagen, state superintendent of recreation will be the speaker. The meeting will be held in the new gymnasium at Monterey.

Mrs. Louis Fry has reopened the Cargo Shop at Herbert Herron's book shop. This department carries paintings and imports, but has been closed for some time. Mrs. Fry was a resident of Carmel about seventeen years ago.

L. L. Benson, agent for the Farmers' Automobile Inter Insurance Exchange, received a telegram this week, which had it been known earlier to his customers, might have caused some of them to get careless about wrecks and thefts while cash was so stringent. It read: "Good news, pass this word to all agents. We are instructing the claims department to make loss settlements in actual cash during bank holiday period."

COLONEL AND MRS.
JADOVSKOY ENTERTAIN

Colonel and Mrs. Jadovskoy had as their guests at dinner Tuesday evening Reginald Kleinschmidt of Montana, the Misses Kleinschmidt of Carmel and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dalton. The affair was in honor of Mr. Kleinschmidt, who is spending the winter here visiting his sisters. He owns several large cattle ranches in Montana.

CARMEL PISTOL CLUB
DISTRIBUTES TROPHIES

The Carmel Pistol club held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening in its rooms in the basement of the Williams building. Trophies were distributed to the winners of the Monthly Slow Fire Handicap Match as follows:

First place, David Ball; second place, Jim Williams; third place, George Wood, Jr.

Winner of the Goat Shoot, George Wood, Jr.

The Goat Shoot is not as the name implies an indiscriminate slaughter of hapless nannies and billies but a series of individual handicap matches the loser of each forfeiting a small medal stamped with the figure of a goat to the winner. The man who at the end of the month has captured the greatest number of "goats" is declared Supreme Exalted Goat-herd and derives what satisfaction he can out of the title.

During the meeting Frank Murray and Charles Grimshaw, both of Carmel, were accepted as new members.

MARDI GRAS BALL WAS WELL ATTENDED

One hundred people attended the masque ball given by Alliance Francaise Tuesday night of last week and all report a splendid time. There were many colorful costumes to add to the gaiety of the evening and the orchestra music under the direction of Frederick Search came in for a great deal of praise.

First lady's prize went to Mrs. Vye, who was dressed in a French Algerian soldier costume. Second went to Mrs. Jadovskoy, in an costume, and the third to Miss Holman of Pacific Grove, who came in Spanish costume.

First men's prize went to Mr. Vye for a Scotch costume and second was awarded to Colonel Jadovskoy for his Russian costume.

GROVE FIVE TAKES CARMEL TO CLEANERS

The Carmel Monday Night basketball five met defeat at the hands of the Pacific Grove team Tuesday night in the neighboring city, the Grove scoring the highest in three out of four games.

But the Carmel team has sworn revenge and they will invite those players over here soon and give them a taste of their own medicine.

The Carmel team comprised: William Askew, C. Askew, Fred Mylar, H. Bowles, F. Tucker, L. G. Weer and Walter Tuthill.

Miss Daisy Bostick was enjoying a huge vase of palargoniums in her office this week. To the uninitiated, they looked like a bowl of Martha Washington geraniums and by either name were just as sweet. But Miss Bostick is such a flower enthusiastic she calls them all by name. Her favorite flower for Carmel however, seems to be the climbing rose and it is spring she has had a beautiful one which has heretofore drooped with its heavy blossoms, pruned so that the foliage may get a start and get in the running.

Miss Alice Gillette and Dr. Nora Stevens have just returned from a few days' visit with friends at Mare Island.

Come here for refreshments after your Bridge party. We will take orders for Spanish or Italian refreshments. We have home cooked pies, cakes chili beans and spaghetti to take home. —The Lucca.

LOOK FOR SETTLEMENT OF P. O. SITE SOON

It is very probable that before another issue of Carmel Sun, the post office site will have been selected and Carmel will know whether to begin beating paths to White Cedars or to the foot of the hill.

OBSERVE TRAFFIC RULES

Since the bicycle craze has been raging here, complaints have been heard that riders, especially the school youngsters, are not observing traffic rules and are endangering public safety.

Many are said to ride on the wrong side of the street, and are asked to be especially careful at corners. Parents will do well to call their children's attention to the danger before some serious accident results. Teachers will also do well to make it a point to bring the subject up before their pupils and see that they understand the laws and how they are protected by them.
